Message from the President

As a member of the UDC family you are our most valued stakeholder. The Department of Public Safety & Emergency Management Services (DPS & EMS) at the University of the District of Columbia recognizes that your sense of safety and well being on campus has a direct impact on your quality of life, which is why they continue to call upon your cooperation and support in advancing a campus that is environmentally safe and free from the opportunities, hazards and risks associated with crime and disorder.

As a matter of prevention, education, and awareness, the DPS & EMS team uses this annual report as a vehicle for bringing crime prevention, crime awareness, personal safety, and environmentally sound practices and procedures, to the forefront of your activities as you conduct your daily affairs at the University. A safe and secure environment requires attentiveness and response at all levels and at all times. I challenge each of you to recognize the significant role that you play in ensuring your personal safety and the safety of others. The information contained in this report should prove to be a great asset with respect toward advancing this collaborative goal.

Wishing you the best for the coming year,

Dr. William L. Pollard, President

Message from the Vice President for Public Safety & Emergency Management

The Department of Public Safety & Emergency Management Services (DPS & EMS) at the University of the District of Columbia is a full service public safety department. As such, we readily accept accountability for campus police, parking, emergency management, and environmental health & safety operations.

What does that mean for our stakeholders? Consistent with our mission, vision and strategy, the DPS & EMS team is committed to reducing environmental hazards, risks, crime, disorder, and the fear of crime on campus. Collectively, we have developed a clear and concise road map for arriving at this ideal destination; however, make no mistake: we cannot attain this goal by leaning on our own efforts, initiatives, training and understanding. You are our eyes and ears and we need your help!

Delivering effective and efficient public safety services intended to meet the diverse needs of our community requires that we first understand what the community expects from us. Furthermore, we constantly look to each and every member of our community to hold us accountable for the quality of services that we provide. In this vein, our strategy for achieving this goal is sufficiently anchored in our continued efforts toward developing and sustaining positive and meaningful communications that lend to community education and outreach, crime awareness, crime prevention, and strong community partnership.

Fervent community collaboration is the lifeline and the vehicle for affecting alliances that support and promote campus-wide safety and security. In this pursuit and on behalf of the entire DPS & EMS team I commend you for your individual and collective efforts. It is our desire that this publication serves as yet another resource for helping you to help us minimize, and possibly even remove opportunities for crime.

Believing for the best,

Robert T. Robinson, Vice President and Chief of Police
Department of Public Safety & Emergency Management Services

ABOUT THE PUBLICATION

In accordance with the 1990 Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act, the Department of Public Safety is responsible for preparing, publishing and distributing an annual security report by October 1 of each year, for the purpose of disclosing and disseminating certain information regarding campus crime statistics, security policies and campus law enforcement. In compliance with this federal law, the Department of Public Safety & Emergency Management makes public this information by way of an annual security report entitled Campus Safety & Security Brochure. The publication is made available to prospective students and employees and is distributed to current students and employees by way of the campus mail system and the U.S. Postal Service. The publication can also be viewed via the University's website at <http://www.udc.edu> (click on downloads). The crime statistics for the University of the District of Columbia (contained at the back of this brochure) are submitted to the U.S. Department of Education (ED) through a web-based data collection system and can be viewed at the following web address: <http://www.ope.ed.gov/security>.

Prominent Reporting Requirements Mandated by the Clery Act

- Publication and dissemination of an annual security report made available to prospective students and employees and distributed to current students and employees.
- Disclosure of specified campus safety and security policies and practices.
- Providing three years worth of selected crime statistics (a) in accordance with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Reporting program, and (b) submitting the crime statistics to the U.S. Dept. of Education (ED) for inclusion in a database that will be distributed to the public on the ED web site.
- Maintaining a public crime log (of all crimes reported to the department); the log must be open to the general public (including parents and the news media).
- Making timely warnings to the community about crimes that pose an ongoing danger to students and employees on campus.

ABOUT THE CLERY ACT

The issue of campus safety is a vital concern. The Clery Act, originally known as the "Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990" is named in memory of Jeanne Ann Clery, a 19 year old freshman who was raped and murdered at Lehigh University, while asleep in her residence hall room on April 5, 1986. The intention of the Clery Act legislation (renamed the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act in 1998) is to provide students and their families with accurate, complete and timely information about safety on campus.

COMPLYING WITH FEDERAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

This federal law is applicable to public and private institutions of higher education that participate in federal student financial aid programs, (under Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965) and is enforced by the U.S. Department of Education (ED). Under federal mandate, this Act requires institutions to disclose certain information about campus safety policies and procedures to current and prospective students and employees, and to provide statistical information concerning certain crimes that occur on and near their campus. Other information mandated by this Act include statements about campus law enforcement policies, campus security education and prevention programs, alcohol and drug policies, sexual assault education and prevention programs, procedures for reporting sexual assaults, and procedures for handling reports of sexual assault. The Act has undergone several legislative amendments since its inception, primarily resulting in expanded reporting requirements.

CAMPUS SEX CRIMES PREVENTION ACT (CSCP)

The Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act (section 1601 of Public Law 106-386) was enacted in October of 2000. This particular amendment provides for the tracking of convicted registered sex offenders enrolled as students at institutions of higher education, working or volunteering on campus. The Act mandates that state procedures ensure that sex offender or registration information is promptly made available to law enforcement agencies with jurisdiction where the institution of higher education is located, and that the information is entered into appropriate state records or data systems.

If you would like to know more about the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, visit <http://www.securityoncampus.org/schools/cleryact/>

SEX OFFENDER REGISTRY

The Metropolitan Police Department (MPD) has an established sex offender registration program for the District of Columbia in order to release sex offender information to the public. If you would like further information, please contact the Metropolitan Police Department – Sex Offender Registry Unit, at 300 Indiana Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20001, or call (202) 727-4407. The public may view the entire sex offender registry by visiting one of the Police Districts, the Sex Offender Registry Unit, or by viewing the following web address: <http://mpdc.dc.gov/serv/sor/sor.shtm>.

“SUZANNE’S LAW”

Signed into law by President George W. Bush as part of the national “Amber Alert” bill, this federal law requires law enforcement to notify the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) any time a person under age 21 is reported missing. Previously police were only required to report missing persons under the age of 18. The law is named after Suzanne Lyall, a 19 year old University of New York at Albany student who has been missing since 1998. The law is intended to impel police to initiate prompt investigations of young persons who have gone missing. The DPS & EMS at the University of the District of Columbia complies with this law.

The District of Columbia Metropolitan Police Department (DC MPD) publishes a Missing Persons Guide that provides instruction on immediate actions to be taken for missing persons. There is no time period for reporting a person missing in the District of Columbia. To view the DC MPD Missing Persons Guide go to http://mpdc.dc.gov/mpdc/cwp/view,a,1237,q,547480,mpdcNav_GID,1549,mpdcNav,l.asp

University Snapshot

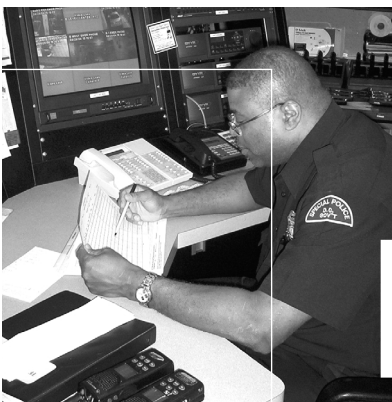

The University of the District of Columbia is a medium size public institution consisting of nine (9) acres with eleven (11) buildings for a total of 1,228,981 gross square feet. University facilities are conveniently situated within walking distance of each other which is why the campus is commonly referred to as a pedestrian campus. Largely recognized as a commuter campus, the University has no residential facilities for the purpose of housing students. The University community consists of approximately 6,000 students and 1,200 faculty and staff. The University has two facilities located off campus as follows: Aerospace Technology Facility at Reagan Washington National Airport (Washington, D.C.) and an Agricultural Experiment Station (Muirkirk Research Farm) located in Beltsville, MD.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY & EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT SERVICES

WHO WE ARE & WHAT WE DO

The Public Safety & Emergency Management Department is a well trained team of thirty-five (35) inclusive of sworn police officers and police supervisors, parking personnel, police and parking administrators and support staff, an environmental protection specialist, a Deputy Chief of Police and a Vice President (Chief of Police) over the division.

The Department of Public Safety & Emergency Management has oversight for the following four major areas of responsibility: Police Operations, Parking Operations, Emergency Preparedness & Response and Environmental Health & Safety. Police operations comprises the largest component of the division, with a vast array of duties ranging from investigating complaints, to staffing special events, to vehicular and traffic control. Police operations consists of three overlapping shifts, with individual command personnel who remain available to provide immediate response and direction for critical or environmentally specific hazards or emergencies. Campus police, public safety and environmental health & safety personnel respond to and investigate all calls for service received by the Department, whether criminal or non-criminal in nature, and both on and near the campus. The campus police division is operational 24 hours per day, 7 days per week, year round, and Police Communications is staffed by a campus police officer at all times.

HOW WE DO IT: Community Coalition

The Department of Public Safety team strives to maintain positive and meaningful communications through sound partnerships with other District emergency response agencies. Campus police partner with a host of agencies ranging from the District's Consortium of Universities, to various other local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies, and we rely on these various entities for mutual support. Through these alliances, training opportunities, information sharing and other assistance is rendered. Campus police sustain an exceptional partnership with the Metropolitan Police Department (MPD) and are able to communicate directly with this agency by police radio. When information is received regarding criminal activity that may involve a member of the University community, campus police will actively investigate information received and collaborate with the MPD as needed, or as required. The MPD routinely communicates with campus police on serious incidents occurring on or near the campus, and in particular, those incidents involving University students or staff; likewise, campus police notify the MPD on major offenses reported to campus police. Finally, as a member of the District's Consortium of Universities, campus police administrators support the District's Emergency Management Agency (EMA) by serving in a rotational on call tour of duty for one week each month - a commitment which calls for a campus police administrator to staff the EMA's Joint Operations

Command Center (J.O.C.C.) in the event of a District-wide emergency. This type of inter-agency collaboration personifies the commitment of the many emergency response agencies that service the District of Columbia community, and the Department of Public Safety is proud to be an active participant in this union.

AUTHORITIES & JURISDICTION OF CAMPUS POLICE

Campus police are appointed as special police officers, pursuant to the provisions of the District of Columbia Code, Sections 4-114 and 4-115. The guidelines that regulate campus and university special police officers are pursuant to the College and University Campus Security Act of 1995. Campus police are armed and have the same authority as a law enforcement officer to arrest without a warrant for offenses committed within the premises of their geographical area of jurisdiction. Geographical jurisdiction extends to those buildings and properties owned or controlled by the University of the District of Columbia. While the Metropolitan Police have primary jurisdiction and authority in all areas off campus, campus police can and do respond to student and staff related incidents that occur in close proximity to the Van Ness campus.

COMMENDING OFFICERS & PROCEDURES FOR FILING COMPLAINTS OF MISCONDUCT

Consistent with our five core values for providing quality customer service, it is our goal that the encounters that you have with members of our Department exemplify quality service and caring, as demonstrated through our actions and our words.

Commending a Campus Police Officer: if you would like to commend a campus police officer or another Department member for outstanding service in the performance of his/her duties, you may contact the Office of the Vice President for Public Safety at (202) 274-5148, or the Deputy Chief of Police at (202) 274-5839. Be prepared to provide the name of the Department member, the action you would like to commend, and the date and approximate time that the action occurred. Upon receipt, information received will be forwarded to the Department member. Written commendations are encouraged and may be submitted electronically.

Allegations of Misconduct: the University has an established formal complaint process with procedures for addressing allegations of misconduct by University employees, which governs complaints pertaining to the conduct of a campus police officer. Pursuant with the District of Columbia Personnel Manual (Chapter 16), this formal process provides for corrective action (as appropriate) while at the same time protecting employees from unwarranted criticism when duties are properly performed. In general, the process involves reporting the alleged misconduct to the Office of Human Resources located in Building 39, Room 301 (or 202-274-5020 by phone). The Office of Human Resources has immediate authority and oversight for investigating complaints. You may also contact the Office of the Vice President for Public Safety located in Building 39, Room 301 K (or 202-274-5148 by phone). The Department of Public Safety will respond to and collaborate with the Office of Human Resources on complaints regarding the misconduct of a campus police officer; however, it is the responsibility of the Office of Human Resources for pursuing complaints to assure that resolution is achieved and complaints are centralized. Complaints are investigated and handled in a just manner that takes into consideration the rights of the accused, the rights of the complainant, and the safety and needs of the University community while the investigation is being conducted.

REPORTING CRIME AND OTHER EMERGENCIES

For activity occurring on the University campus, campus police are the best line of contact because they are most often the first responders to the scene. When you contact campus police at (202) 274-5050 an officer(s) will be dispatched to the location of the incident. Campus police simultaneously initiate emergency response from other agencies as needed, or as required. Campus police have direct radio communication with the Metropolitan Police Department and report major offenses to appropriate law enforcement authorities. For direct access to municipal emergency response services (police, fire, ambulance), dial 911 (or 9 + 911 from any University telephone). Should you become a victim of a crime, or should you witness a crime, use the following information to immediately contact campus police:

On Campus: ext. 5050 – dial 4 + 5050

Off Campus: 274-5050 (within the District of Columbia); (202) 274-5050 (outside the District of Columbia)

In Person: Police Communications – Building 39, Room A-13 (staffed 24 hours per day, 7 days per week, year round).

Emergency Call Stations: two-way communication call boxes are strategically located throughout the campus and allow for direct two-way communication with a campus police officer housed in the Police Communications Center. When emergency call stations are activated, the location from where the call is made is displayed in Police Communications and an officer is immediately dispatched. Call boxes are easily identifiable, yellow in color, and are equipped with a blue strobe light that pulses upon activation.

Campus police, public safety and environmental health & safety personnel respond to and investigate all calls for service received by the Department, whether criminal or non-criminal in nature, and both on and near the campus.

REPORTING CRIME & COLLECTING CRIME DATA

The Department of Public Safety prepares this report in cooperation with the local law enforcement agencies surrounding our main campus and alternate branch locations. Campus crime, arrests, and referral statistics include those reported to campus police, law enforcement agencies and "campus security authorities". The University's obligation to disclose crime statistics reported to local police and non-law enforcement entities that may be recognized as "campus security authorities" is a requirement of the Clery Act. The Department of Public Safety acknowledges that there are several non-law enforcement

The Department of Public Safety encourages anyone who is the victim or witness to any crime to promptly report the incident to the police. Because police reports are public records under state law, campus police cannot hold reports of crime in confidence. The Department of Public Safety encourages non-law enforcement individuals to whom crime is reported to inform the reporting person of procedures for reporting crimes. Crimes should be reported to campus police to ensure inclusion in the compilation of annual crime statistics and to aid in providing timely warning to the University community via Campus Safety Alerts, when appropriate.

individuals (such as, but not limited to, deans, directors, and department heads) that by their significant roles or responsibilities may reasonably be identified by students and employees as "officials" or "authorities" to whom crime should be reported. These individuals are not expected, nor are they responsible for determining whether or not a crime has been committed, which is why campus and local police stand ready in this function, examining any information supplied by these individuals. For reporting purposes, the Department of Public Safety relies on recognized campus security authorities to make available information that better enables us as an institution to accurately report crime occurring on and near our campus. With the exception of those individuals (pastoral and professional counselors acting in the role of pastoral or professional counselors) who are exempted from disclosing offenses reported to them (under provisions sanctioned by the Clery Act), all others are strongly encouraged to report any allegations of campus crimes to the appropriate law enforcement personnel (campus or local police).

The University recognizes the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs (Building 39, Room 301-I) and the Office of Human Resources (Building 38, Room 301) at the University of the District of Columbia as resources for reporting crime and for accepting student victim complaints against student assailants. Personnel from either of these offices will assist student victims in notifying appropriate law enforcement authorities, if the student chooses.

CRIME AWARENESS & CRIME PREVENTION

CRIME PREVENTION & EDUCATION

Using a multi-layered approach, the Department of Public Safety provides services and employs strategies that maximize crime and safety awareness while at the same time encouraging community members to take responsibility for their personal safety and the safety of others. Throughout the academic year, Department members conduct crime prevention and education presentations, distribute preventative and informational literature, and deliver safety and security programs to new and returning students, faculty, staff and guests. Police and environmental health & safety administrators participate in student orientations held at the beginning of each academic year, as well as various other programs and functions sponsored by the University, for the purpose of providing information concerning crime awareness, campus safety, and other public safety procedures, practices and initiatives. Often times, public safety officials are called on to conduct educational and preventative presentations for a targeted group; however, it is not uncommon for public safety officials to contact a particular community member, group, or division when a pattern of criminal or unusual activity is observed at or near a particular campus location. These various overlapping measures promote campus safety by providing a proactive strategy toward thwarting dangerous or threatening conditions that adversely impact the University community. To learn more about crime prevention, or to request a presentation or other literature, please call (202) 274-5148.

Look for crime prevention and health and safety articles routinely published in "The UDC Spark" newsletter.

CRIME LOG – DAILY MEDIA LOG

Campus police respond to criminal incidents and non-criminal activity on and near the campus. Incident report numbers are assigned to all criminal incidents and many non-criminal incidents (as warranted) investigated by or reported to campus police. The Department of Public Safety records all criminal incidents reported to campus police on the Daily Media Log, which is updated each day, except for days when the institution is closed. As a practice, non-criminal activity (on or near the campus) that is deemed significant (of potential interest to the community) is also recorded on the Daily Media Log as a point of information. Daily Media Log entries include the nature of the crime (offense classification) or non-criminal activity (information), the incident report number, the date, time, location and status (if known) of the crime/activity, and a brief description of the incident. According to federal law, an institution may temporarily withhold information from the Daily Media Log in some cases; for example, when disclosing the information could compromise the confidentiality of the victim, the safety of an individual, or an ongoing investigation. The Daily Media Log is open to public inspection, including parents and the media, and can be viewed upon request during normal business hours at the office of Campus Police (Communications Center), located in Building 39, Room A13.

No police or public safety entity can guarantee that you will never become a victim of a crime. Nevertheless, through fervent partnership with our community, and through preventative education and awareness, we can minimize, and in some instances, even remove the opportunities associated with the occurrence of crime. We encourage students, faculty, staff, and guests to report all suspicious or unusual activity to campus police immediately. Please support the efforts of the public safety team by taking an active interest and role in your personal safety and the safety of others.

TIMELY WARNINGS – CAMPUS SAFETY ALERTS

When conditions or circumstances warrant, the Department of Public Safety issues Campus Safety Alerts as timely warnings to caution the University community to potentially dangerous or threatening situations, serious crime, and other activity that poses a threat to persons or property. These timely warnings offer preventative safety and security precautions that arm the University community with information that enables them to protect themselves, while at the same time serving to prevent similar crimes or conditions. Campus Safety Alerts are sent by way of University-wide electronic mail (to all campus community members who have an active account), and by way of faculty and staff newsletters, posters, flyers, and fax. In an attempt to reach as many community members as possible, the Department of Public Safety calls on the University community, encouraging support by assistance with posting Campus Safety Alerts throughout the campus, in conspicuous locations. In some cases, and particularly in instances when a crime or condition occurs near the campus, other local, state and/or federal law enforcement authorities are often engaged with campus police in a unified effort toward minimizing or removing crime and crime risks, as well as alerting the community.

CAMPUS SAFETY & SECURITY

Campus Escort: if you must travel alone, a walking escort is available to University students, faculty, staff and guests, to and from campus buildings or parking facilities. To request a walking escort, contact campus police at 274-5050.

Facilities Access: access to University owned and controlled buildings and grounds is a privilege that is extended to students, faculty, staff, and guests. By the very nature of its location, landscape design, and exterior perimeter boundaries, the University promotes an open and welcoming environment. However, the University reserves the right to apply appropriate limitations (as needed) in order to ensure the safety and well being of our community. Except for times when the University is officially closed, most campus facilities are open during the time when classes are in session or by special arrangement. Authorization for use of campus facilities and premises must be obtained in advance through the Office of Space Reservation on (202) 274-5576 or the Athletic Department on (202) 274-6024..

As a matter of security, campus police encourage authorized staff who are working in their offices outside of normal business hours or during times when the University is officially closed to contact Police Communications at (202) 274-5050 upon entering and leaving the campus. Pursuant with existing policy, employees must obtain prior approval when requesting facilities access during times when the University is officially closed. To obtain additional information, please contact the Office of the Vice President for Public Safety at (202) 274-5148.

Presently the University is in the process of moving from manual key access to campus-wide electronic card key access as part of a capital project (currently underway). Additional information and policies concerning card key access will be disseminated as this project nears completion.

Facilities Maintenance: the Office of Campus Services provides power plant operations and maintenance for buildings and grounds located on the Van Ness Campus. Other facility maintenance conditions addressed by this division include electrical and mechanical services, exterior lighting and landscape control, elevator and escalator repair, and more. Unsafe facility conditions such as exterior lighting, inoperable locking hardware, thick or full shrubbery, unsafe steps, handrails, or walkways, and other potentially hazardous facility conditions should be reported immediately to the Office of Campus Services, located in Building 38, Room C01 during normal business hours. You may contact Campus Services at (202) 274-5865. Campus police remain available (outside from normal business hours) for those conditions or situations posing an immediate danger or risk.

Emergency Preparedness & Response: The Department of Public Safety & Emergency Management has created an Emergency Action Guide that was distributed to all essential University personnel in the spring of 2003. The Emergency Action Guide (currently undergoing revisions) is a condensed version of the District's April 2002 manual; however, it is operationally specific to the University community. District agencies have established sound plans for responding to a major emergency in the District of Columbia. The University's Emergency Action Guide (and corresponding action plan) is not intended to replace existing plans; rather, its purpose is to provide key information intended to augment the already sound and functional emergency response plan and efforts of unified District agencies and departments. To view the University's Emergency Action Guide in its entirety, visit the University's website at <http://www.udc.edu> (click on downloads).

UNIVERSITY RESOURCES & PREVENTION PROGRAMS

ALCOHOL & DRUG EDUCATION, COUNSELING SERVICES, REFERRAL SERVICES, COLLEGE DISCIPLINARY ACTIONS, SEX OFFENSE POLICIES & PREVENTION

UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICES

Some problems addressed by the EAP include: stress, feelings of depression and anxiety, marital concerns, family pressures, crisis intervention, anger management and substance abuse (alcohol and other drugs). Psychiatric consultation is also available to faculty and staff. A telephone call to the EAP can begin the problem-solving process for you. The program is located in Building 38, Room 301. The outcome of a disciplinary action will not be subject to challenge because criminal charges involving the same incident were dismissed or reduced.

- Complaints received against students are forwarded to the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs for resolution within the Student Judicial System. A complete outline of student policies, regulations and disciplinary sanctions (Code of Student Conduct and Student Judicial System) can be found in the Student Handbook. SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

The University of the District of Columbia is committed to providing a work and academic environment that encourages intellectual and academic excellence and promotes the emotional well being of its students, faculty and staff. Sexual harassment is inconsistent with this objective and contrary to the University's policy of equal employment and academic opportunity. The University's policy on sexual harassment is designed to address and resolve complaints, support complainants, protect confidentiality and preclude retaliation against complainants and those who cooperate with an investigation. Sexual harassment of even one person by any other person is an institutional problem and the University administration wants to know about it so that prompt and appropriate action can be taken to protect the victim and ensure that no further incidents occur. The prompt reporting of harassing conduct will result in a thorough investigation and when appropriately established, will result in discipline of the harasser. Incidents of sexual harassment should be reported to the EAP/EEO Coordinator located in the Office of Human Resources by calling (202) 274-5020. For additional information concerning sexual harassment, see Sexual Assault Resources (page 18).

REPORTING SEXUAL ASSAULT

Survivors of sexual assault have several options. We strongly encourage survivors to report the sexual assault to police. If you wish to report the assault (and in the interest of building a strong legal case, should you choose to press charges) it is best to report the crime right away and have an examination to collect evidence. A sexual assault exam can be performed up to 96 hours after the assault; however, you can report anytime up to seven years after a sexual assault. After you call the police, several procedural steps are followed. In the District of Columbia a uniformed police officer will take a brief statement from you. The officer will then call the D.C. Sexual Assault Unit of the police department (specially trained detectives who handle sexual assault cases). If you report a sexual assault to the police or if you go to Howard University Hospital, an operator will contact the D.C. Rape Crisis Center and a counselor or advocate will meet you at the hospital to provide information and support. Specially trained nurses called Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners (SANEs) are available 24-hours per day at Howard University Hospital to provide medical attention and to collect evidence for court. The SANE examination at Howard University Hospital is free of charge. Howard University Hospital is located at 2041 Georgia Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C.

In the District of Columbia, the D.C. Rape Crisis Center can provide you with immediate, confidential and free services that will help you to explore all of your options. If you do not wish to report the sexual assault to the authorities, you should still seek medical care for any injuries, pregnancy, sexually transmitted diseases (STDs), physical evidence, or possible side effects associated with a drug-facilitated sexual assault. Even if you do not wish to report the sexual assault, the D.C. Rape Crisis Center has counselors and advocates who provide supportive services to survivors that helps them to understand the criminal justice system (reporting, prosecution and the courts). Call the 24 Hour D.C. Rape Crisis HOTLINE at 202-333-RAPE (7273) for counseling and referrals to the hospitals nearest you.

What is Sexual Assault?

A sexual assault is about power, anger, and control. It is an act of violence and an attempt to degrade someone using sex as a weapon. Above all, sexual assault is a crime. Sexual assaults can happen to anyone: children, students, wives, mothers, working women, grandmothers, the rich and the poor, and boys and men. The assailants can be anyone: classmates, co-workers, a neighbor or delivery person, total strangers, outgoing or shy, and often a friend or a family member. If you or someone you know have been sexually assaulted, visit the following web address for an informational emergency resource guide provided by the D.C. Rape Crisis Center: <http://mpdc.dc.gov/about/units/rapesurvival.pdf>
