“Navigating the Learning Environment through the Lenses of Autistic Disorder/Autism Spectrum”

Tuesday, July 24, 2012 in Building 44, Room A-03

2:00 PM - 4:00 PM

Guest Presenter:

Dr. Lorrie A. Ness, Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Ness provides treatment to children, adolescents, adults and families, as well as comprehensive psychological and psychoeducational assessments.

Areas of expertise include helping individuals cope with major life changes, interpersonal challenges, emotional difficulties and parenting issues. Dr. Ness also provides treatment for anxiety, depression, AD/HD and autism spectrum disorders.

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to participate in the discussion as a means of learning how to be more sensitive to diversity within the learning environment on campus.

For more information, please contact Dr. Sandra Shands-Strong, Counselor within the Disability Resource Center on the Van Ness Campus at sshandsstrong@udc.edu or (202) 274-5526.
